

THE GREYHOUND

PUBLISHED MONTHLY BY THE STUDENTS OF LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. IX

BALTIMORE, MD., TUESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1936

No. 7

ANNUAL FRESHMAN HOP TO BE HELD AT THE CADOA JANUARY 31; THE MIDSHIPMEN WILL FURNISH MELODIES

FIRST SOCIAL OF NEW YEAR

Committee Of Arrangements
Planning Unique Lighting
Effects For Hall

After final arrangements were completed it was decided that the annual Freshman Hop will be held on Friday, January 31, at The Cadoa, from nine until one. The Midshipmen will render the music for this, the first social function of the New Year at Loyola.

Midshipmen

The Midshipmen, of whom Johnny White '39 is a member, need no introduction to those who attended the Senior dance held in the Library earlier in the year. The committee is planning a novel lighting effect which, it is hoped, will make the hall even more attractive on the evening of the dance.

The committee in charge of arrangements, composed of Bernard O'Neill, Frederick Ruzicka, Daniel Loden, Samuel Powers, Charles Connor, Ned Stevenson and Charles Crimy, has decided that the price of the dance will be one dollar and a quarter a couple. There will be no individual admissions. The dance will be semi-formal.

Seniors Sponsor Card Party To Finance Coming Year Book

Bridge, Five Hundred, Pitch, And Bingo Draw Large Crowd To Benefit

On Friday, January 10, 1936, the Senior Class sponsored a Card Party in the gym at Loyola High School. This affair, held for the benefit of the Year Book, consisted of the playing of bridge, five hundred, pitch and bingo, and was attended by approximately two hundred people, many of whom went home with the attractive prizes which had been supplied.

The committee was composed of the following Seniors: Edward Monroe, Carroll Duffy, John Dolle, Paul Sneeringer, Frank Muth and James McAleer. They were assisted by Messrs. William Smith, Joseph Mack and William J. 'Donnell, of the Junior Class. The Seniors wish to thank each helper whose co-operation made the party such a success, those who sold tickets, gave prizes, Father

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 2)

LOYOLA MID-YEAR EXAMINATIONS TO BEGIN TODAY, JANUARY 21

Ethics First Senior Exam;
Juniors Have Philosophy
English For Sophs

The annual Loyola Mid-year Examinations start today, January 21. In brief, the schedule is as follows:

Tuesday, January 21:

Seniors: Ethics
Juniors: Philosophy
Sophomores: English
Freshmen: English

Wednesday, January 22:

Seniors: English, Mathematics
Juniors: English, Mathematics, Economics
Sophomores: Apologetics
Freshmen: Apologetics

Thursday, January 23:

Seniors: Orals
Juniors: Apologetics
Sophomores: Latin Province, Classical Literature
Freshmen: Classical Literature

Friday, January 24:

Seniors: Organic Chemistry, History III, IV
Juniors: Organic Chemistry, History III, IV
Sophomores: Organic Chemistry

Freshmen: Latin Province, B. S. Mathematics

Monday, January 27:

Seniors: Psychology
Juniors: Physics, A.B. Ph. B.; B.S.
Sophomores: Physics, B.S.; History I

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 3)

POETRY CLUB DISCUSSES GILBERT K. CHESTERTON

The life and the poems of Gilbert K. Chesterton were the subject of the January meeting of the Francis Thompson Poetry society, held on January 10, in the library of Notre Dame College. The program sponsored by the Loyola students was opened after the usual business, by an imaginary press conference between Mr. Chesterton and representatives of the Baltimore Sun, the News Post, and the Baltimore Catholic Review. In this conference there were pointed out facts concerning Chesterton's early life, education, career as a writer, and his conversion to the Catholic Faith.

Mr. Chesterton stated that with him the urge to write was not perfectly natural as

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

REV. THOMAS MURRAY, S.J.

FR. MURRAY S. J. IS HONORED BY CLASS OF 1929 AT DINNER

MISSIONARY SIX YEARS

Happy memories were revived when the class of 1929 gave a dinner in honor of their former teacher, Rev. Thomas Murray, S.J., at the Stafford Hotel on January 6, 1936. Father Murray instructed the class of '29 in English for their Freshman

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 4)

Calendar

Jan. 21—Mid-year Exams begin.

Sodality Benediction.

Jan. 28—Sodality Benediction.

Jan. 30—Mid-year Exams end.

Jan 31 — Inter-semester holiday.

Freshman Hop.

Feb. 3—Classes resumed for second semester.

Feb. 4—Sodality Meeting. 12:10.

Mendel Club Lecture.

George J. Jarboe: "Infantile Paralysis."

Feb. 5—Bellarmine Debate.

Feb. 11—Sodality Benediction.

Feb. 12—Bellarmine Debate.

Feb. 14—Crusade Dance.

Feb. 18—Sodality Meeting. 12:10.

Chem Lecture. Dr. E. G. Bosche: "Dental Alloys, Old and New."

Mendel Club: Andrew C. Zinkand: "Toads and Toad Life."

Feb. 19—Bellarmine Debate.

LAWRENCE T. MULLEN, '37 BECOMES EDITOR-IN-CHIEF OF GREYHOUND; SUCCEEDS EUGENE F. JENDREK, '36

WM. DUFFY '36 SPEAKS BEFORE MENDEL CLUB ABOUT DISEASES

Tribute Paid To Pasteur For Advances Made In The Field Of Vaccines

Speaking at a Mendel Club meeting on January 14, Mr. William C. Duffey of Fourth Year delivered a most interesting and well prepared lecture on diseases.

He stated that this topic is a very broad one. He discussed many ancient concepts and cures of disease, explaining that many malignant powers were thought to be behind them, both animal and spiritual. Next came the Greeks, who attributed four humors to the body, all of which in a healthy body were supposed to be in perfect balance. A disturbance in this balance meant disease and sickness and after this there was little progress until a Dutch lens maker discovered the microscope. He found the bacterium for the first time, but failed to recognize it as a factor in disease.

However other men using his invention soon recognized bacteria in their true light, and many important discoveries soon followed.

Mr. Duffey stated that in 1863 anthrax was isolated, and was succeeded by other isolations. But Pasteur and his revolutionary germ theory gave a true concept of disease and its causes. His remarkable advances in

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 5)

EDWIN GEHRING RECEIVES C.S.M.C. AWARD AT RALLY

The annual Crusade Rally was held at the Cathedral on Sunday, January 19. At the Rally held inside the Cathedral, William J. Little, Loyola Junior and Edwin A. Gehring, Loyola Sophomore, were given the awards which they won last April in the C.S.M.C. Oratorical Contest.

Chemistry Note

The Chemistry lecture scheduled for Jan. 14, which was unavoidably postponed, will be held after the Mid-Year Exams, it was announced by Father Schmitt.

O'DONNELL SPORTS EDITOR

McGonigle and Smith Assume Columns; No Managing Editor Chosen

In the staff changes, effective this issue, Lawrence T. Mullen, '37 succeeds Eugene F. Jendrek, '36 as Editor-in-Chief of the Greyhound. There has not been a Managing Editor selected to fill Mr. Mullen's former position, but this member of the staff will be chosen next September. William J. O'Donnell, '37 will be Sports Editor, succeeding Andrew E. Cichelli, '36, while Edward B. Reddy '38 and Daniel J. Loden, '39 will become associate Sports Editors. The other Associate Editor will be F. Howard Kidd, Jr., '37.

The columnists will be William A. Smith, '37, who will become the Evergreen Reflector, and William D. McGonigle, '37, who will handle the Campus Clippings. Joseph J. Mack, '37 and Charles C. Conlon, '38 will retain their positions as Advertising Manager and Circulation Manager respectively. Joseph B. Kelly, '39 succeeds Mr. McGonigle as Alumni Editor. The news staff will consist of Joseph B. Aaron, '38, Charles O. Fisher, '38, William J. Doyle, '39, John D. White, '39, George Smith '39 and Earl Knott, '39.

Sodality Holds First Meeting Of New Year; Outlines Plans

Father Risacher Delivers
Address Concerning
Mexican Situation

The first meeting of 1936 was held by the Sodality on January 14 at 12:10. Bernard D. Rice, Prefect of the Sodality, began the meeting by announcing that at the meeting held on February 4, the drawing of the Sodality Pin will be submitted for the approval of the Sodality. The next announcement concerned the plans for the Crusade Rally which was later held on Sunday, January 19. The main part of the meeting was the talk by Father Risacher, Moderator, who spoke on the Mexican Problem. It was decided that there would be Little Benediction today, and also next week because of the Exams.

History Note

Charles E. Kelly, '36, delivered a lecture on January 14. His topic was: "The Congress of Berlin," which was

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

THE GREYHOUND

LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. IX

Baltimore, Maryland

No. 7

Editor-in-Chief

LAWRENCE T. MULLEN, '37

Sports Editor

WILLIAM J. O'DONNELL, '37

Alumni Editor

JOSEPH B. KELLY, '39

Departments

WILLIAM D. MCGONIGLE, '37

WILLIAM A. SMITH, '37

Associate Editors

F. HOWARD KIDD, JR., '37

EDWARD B. REDDY, '38

DANIEL J. LODEN, '39

'38

Circulation Manager

CHARLES C. CONLON, '38

Advertising Manager

JOSEPH J. MACK, '37

News Staff

JOSEPH B. AARON, '38

JOHN D. WHITE, '39

EARL KNOTT, '39

CHARLES O. FISHER, '38

WILLIAM J. DOYLE, '39

GEORGE SMITH, '39

Published Monthly

We Begin

In the last issue of the Greyhound it was announced that the senior members of the staff were retiring from the paper. Therefore with this issue the new staff assumes where its predecessors finished, and it is not without some trepidation that it does resume, for under the capable hands of the outgoing regime the paper flourished well, and we hope that we will be able to carry our term through with the same enthusiasm which was shown by our former fellow-workers.

Beginning with this issue, the Greyhound will be published but once a month, thereby breaking away from the custom of producing it at bi-weekly intervals. With this in view, we are faced with a greater difficulty, and yet a better convenience than we were up to this time, because since the prime purpose of a newspaper is to print news, it will be difficult to record happenings at Loyola soon enough to make them timely; on the other hand, we will be able to spend more energy upon the preparation of each issue. Henceforward, then, the Greyhound will be more of a review than a newspaper, but we must acknowledge the fact that the Greyhound must serve not only the purpose of recalling to the minds of the students what events are happening at Evergreen, but must also act as the voice of the College, and keep our subscribers informed on what is taking place here.

We hope to make the Greyhound more the literary voice of the College than the factual voice, and while we shall continue to give reports of lectures, to comment on current events, and to announce the approach of future events, we hope to produce more reading of universal appeal. We ask you, our fellow-students, to make the Greyhound an instrument of such importance to you that you will voluntarily submit whatever material you consider to be of interest to the student body at large, whether your contribution be in the form of a letter, an essay, a short story, news story or poem. Surely the majority of the school's best writers have not applied for positions on the staff, and when we make this statement, we do not cast any aspersions on those few who have joined. Indeed, without this minority, we would not be able to print this paper at all, and we know that they have enough interest in Loyola's paper to give their time and talents toward the continuance of its publication.

Not only do we solicit the cooperation and consideration of the student body, but we hope for the aid and consideration of the faculty, alumni and organizations as well.

Remember our advertisers, not only because the publication of our paper rests largely upon them, but also because by placing their advertisements in our periodical they implicitly express that they have confidence in our judgement and discrimination.

Therefore, we wish to take this opportunity to pay our tribute to the retiring seniors, and to thank them for the help they have given in carrying on their splendid work; we promise to manage this paper to the very best of our abilities, and we place a bid for the good will and cooperation of everyone interested in the Greyhound.

Campus Clippings

W. D. McG.

The recent flight of the China Clipper brings to mind the fact that the new Campus Clipper is also taking off on a long (?) flight. So here's hoping we hit no "air pockets" on the route, and make a perfect three-point landing on the island of "Happiness."

* * *

Question which is bothering many a scholar (?) these days: Will Lloyds, Ltd., sell insurance on the outcome of examinations?

* * *

Then there's the story of the motorist who picked up a hitch-hiker, in reality a pick-pocket. In the excitement that followed the speedometer mounted to 50 m.p.h.; the motorist was stopped by a policeman and given a ticket. The driver turned to his passenger and exclaimed, "Now look what you've done!" "Don't worry, buddy," retorted the light-fingered one, "here's the book that cop wrote the duplicate in."

* * *

We know that you would enjoy it very much, but we don't wish to burden you with our verse (*) just now. But, in all justice, we wish to announce that all of our former English teachers still have sound minds.

(*) Ed. Note: Stop bragging!

* * *

Frank N. Stein, remarks that the Christmas holidays are like the weather. He says that they are the calm before the storm. . . of exams!

* * *

Our personal nomination for the leader among the make - you - sleep - in - class games: Monopoly the night before. Ugh!

* * *

To our potential "hecklers" (probably doubled by now): —We wish to state that we really are a timid soul, and wish no hostilities, but if they demand "to have it out" with us, we'll gladly meet them in the gym on February 30 in an eraser duel.

P.S.—In the event one of these "battles" takes place, it is to be understood that the erasers are to be rubbed with white chalk only.

* * *

"Dangerous Dan" Frey is up to his old tricks again. His latest is to wage a bitter struggle with the whole world, if necessary, in order to have the word "piply" accepted as an authorized adverb!

Evergreen Reflections

W. A. S.

Departure A La Maguire

With a good deal of trepidation we take over this job of "reflecting" from the capable hands of "Muggsy" Maguire. This news will come as a keen disappointment to the lad's palpitating public because he definitely established himself as a skillful raconteur during his short tenure. They tell me that I have to get funny. I have my doubts about my ability to accomplish this, but I can at least fill the column. You were too good, "Muggsy"; the let-down is going to be terrific.

Sleeping A La Wildhack

You have probably seen in the movies that funny, funny fellow, Mr. Wildhack, who has reduced "human sound phenomena" to a science. His demonstrations of sneezes and snores are most edifying. Noting the tendency of our colleagues to slip into the comforting arms of Morpheus since the holidays, it has occurred to me that, were he in our midst, the said Mr. Wildhack would find a fertile field. The utter lack of snoring by sleeping students would no doubt intrigue him.

The first type of sleeper we have is the "rigor mortis" dozer. He is characterized by the sudden death-like stiffness of his lower members and the looseness of the upper ones. If you are diligent, a stray snore or two may be detected. The legs are thrust out like ram-rods before him, he balances precariously upon the edge of his chair with the back catching him in the hollow of his neck. His hands are allowed to dangle loosely. It is this apparent danger of position which seems to defy the law of gravity, that causes Willie White to get that worried, ready-for-anything look as he contemplates the practically supine posture of his neighbor. Experienced sleepers tell me that this type is frowned upon because it is utterly lacking in deception and subtlety. Only exhaustion causes an experienced sleeper to succumb before he can prepare himself for the more skillful branches.

Our next type is the "catch-as-catch-can napper." He simply drops his head upon his arms and slips into unconsciousness. Since there is such an utter lack of deception in this also, the subject must depend upon a bulky classmate ahead of him to cover his temporary absence. Keidel and Ayd, although capable of the higher forms, find this type a very convenient one for knitting up the raveled sleeve of care.

This brings us naturally to the more subtle kinds. Of course their number is legion and each boasts of characteristic variations from the general theme. Types in this ramification are employed by resourceful souls who find that they are at a disadvantage and who would be detected immediately unless they used care. Because of their great number and close affinity, we need select only one. Our choice is unhesitatingly type No. 3A, which has been called "comparative Nirvana." The subject maintains an erect position throughout, his eyes are fixed on the professor, a gentle smile plays about his lips; in short, he epitomizes the alert student. So effective a weapon is 3A that we have seen the professor directly address his remarks to the subject under its soothing influence, when the room is full of more alert but sleepier looking students. Of course this is not the purpose of the sleeper, to attract attention, because it can easily be seen that the sleeper in this instance is at a distinct disadvantage. A question put to him falls upon barren ground, so to speak. But its advantages far outweigh its dangers. For instance, a man sitting in the first row will find No. 3A his only recourse when weariness threatens to cleave spirit from body. As long as he is not spoken to, no one would suspect him. Only a certain fixity of expression and posture betrays to the experienced observer his condition. We would advise the novices against attempting this because it comes only after a great deal of practise and a sound schooling in the fundamentals. We have often seen the gentle smile, mentioned above as a prime requisite, skid over into a dreamy leer simply because the sleeper was not sound in the fundamentals.

—o—

Epitaph

Our contribution to the proposed monument to Blue Rock follows:—

Blue Rock, you rascal
You just had to rassel
With every strange canine you saw.
Though you haven't got rabies
We're sure you're in Hades.
Hot dog!

LOYOLA SPORTS

Will O' Wisp

W. J. O'D.

With the New Year comes something new to Loyola—true it was the visit of the Yale team—but beyond that it was the evolution of a new basketball team—a team which would make the Maryland Collegiate League give it recognition.

When big Ed Russell rejoined the squad at center, he teamed up with Captain Tom Carney, Charlie Wayson at guards, and Jules Knight and Guy Matricciani to form one of those formidable teams which so well characterizes basketball here at Loyola.

Yale

Greyhound versus Bulldog stood forth as the challenge when the New Year's din had cleared away, and as we saw it was a real dog fight to the finish. It was a test of speed and agility of the small Greyhound against the mass and might of the raging Bulldog from New Haven. It was a test for Loyola against some of the "big time."

The Bulldogs started off fast and manifested many plays and blocks which had helped their marvelous football team through its past season. But it was the type of game the Greyhounds love. They outpassed the Eli five and outscored them, so that when the final whistle blew, five men, three for Loyola and two for Yale had been ejected on fouls. The speedy Greyhound had conquered the mighty Bulldog, 40-27.

The League

When you read this, the Maryland Collegiate League will be well under way and Loyola will have had her tests. As yet the outcome of the League is an unknown quantity. I cannot make any predictions because there are too many good teams in the conference; as a fact I cannot say there is even one weak team. One thing I can assuredly say is that Loyola, with a renovated and bolstered team, and with a new spirit, will be high in the ranks, anxiously and eagerly fighting their way to the championship on the far away horizon.

At present, after an early season showing, Washington College and Mt. St. Mary's seem to be our most threatening enemies, but time alone will tell. The Green and Gray five after having proved its worth in a few major encounters, and with the speed and aggressiveness of such a smoothly working combination, is all set to put in their claim for league recognition.

We have a team that is well worthy of your support. Why not come out to the games, the home games at least, and show the team that you too stand behind it? How can you expect the team to have confidence in itself, if you will not manifest your enthusiasm and support of it?

A new set of cheers has been arranged, and several who have volunteered as cheer leaders will try them out in the cafeteria. Let's all get together now, and come to the games and spur the team on, through the league.

Intramural Basketball

This old question again puts itself forward about this time of the year: How about intramural basketball? The baseball league in the spring and autumn has worked out very successfully, and there's no good reason why basketball should not work out equally as well.

It is true that the main difficulty presenting itself is the different labs, but with a schedule arrangement, this could be ironed out with a minimum of trouble. There are many in the school who enjoy basketball and like the spirit of competition and rivalry that is created between the various groups. How about you? Will you play intramural basketball? If so, see your Student Athletic Committee representative, and let's get this movement functioning right.

MOUNT SAINT MARY'S TRIMS GREYHOUND QUINT

MANY FOULS COMMITTED

Mount Gets Twenty-Five Charity Tosses In Rough Game

Loyola's Greyhounds invaded the stronghold of Mount Saint Mary's Mountaineers and dropped a hard-fought, close-guarding game 27-20, in the first league contest for both teams.

Loyola got off to a flying start with Tom Carney dropping in a free shot closely followed by a field goal by Matricciani. Due to the Mountaineers' inability to convert their numerous charity tosses and a smooth-clicking zone defense, the Greyhounds held a three point lead at the end of the first half.

The second half started the same way with Loyola again committing numerous fouls and the Mountaineers again failing to convert. The lead see-sawed back and forth, when, with minutes left to play, "Ed" Russell left the game via the foul route. Then Sagadelli, lanky forward and Loyola's public enemy number one, took matters in his own hands and tossed in three one-handed shots in rapid succession along with a double-decker by Apichella to clinch the game for the Mount.

The game was featured by the close guarding of both teams, with Russell holding the high-scoring Petrini without a field goal. For the Greyhounds, Matricciani, Knight and Carney starred. For the

BASKETBALL CALENDAR

Jan. 25—Washington College, at Chestertown.

Jan. 30—Western Maryland, at home.

Feb. 1—St. Peter's, at home.

Feb. 8—St. John's, at home.

Feb. 11—Western Maryland, at Westminster.

Feb. 13—Gallaudet, at home.

Feb. 15—Johns Hopkins, at Homewood.

Feb. 19—Md. State Teachers, at Towson Armory.

Feb. 22—Mt. St. Mary's, at home.

PLEASANT VALLEY DAIRY INDEPENDENT

LAFAYETTE AVE. AND AIKEN ST.
Selected "A" milk—Cream Chocolate milk, Butter milk
VERNON 6646—6647

GREYHOUNDS TO MEET TERRORS IN LEAGUE FRAY NEXT WEEK

BENJAMIN SOPHOMORE ACE

The basket-ball playing Terrors of Western Maryland are scheduled to meet our Greyhounds in a game to be played here at Evergreen on January 30. As evidence that the Terror team has something this year we point to the fact that the fast St. Joseph's of Philadelphia aggregation beat them by but a single point. Even taking into consideration the disadvantage confronting the visitors in a smaller gym, Western Maryland must have a really good cage team.

Showing the way to date for Terror scorers is Stan Benjamin, last year's freshman sensation, while Fowble, veteran of last year's team, along with some freshmen stars in Uvanni, Rinehardt, and Tomichuk, round out the team. Hopes of seeing another thriller like last year's 32 to 30 last minute Loyola victory, should bring Loyola-Western Maryland rooters and just plain basketball lovers out in full force.

Mount, Sagadelli was the big gun.

The box score:

LOYOLA
Knight, f.	3	1-2	7
Wayson, f.	0	0-0	0
Kelly, f.	0	0-2	0
Russell, c.	0	0-0	0
Carney, g.	2	2-5	6
Bremer, g.	0	0-0	0
Matricciani, g.	3	1-1	7
Total	8	2-10	20
ST. MARY'S
Kokie, f.	1	0-1	2
Apichella, f.	1	3-3	5
Sagadelli, f.	4	4-7	12
Petrini, c.	0	2-7	2
Reilly, g.	0	1-3	1
Mitchell, g.	0	1-2	1
Leahy, g.	2	0-2	4
Total	8	11-25	27

SODALITY HOLDS MEETING

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5)
presented to the members of the John Gilmary Shea History Academy.

HOUNDS HAMMERED IN SPEEDY BASKETBALL GAME

VIEWED BY CROWD OF 800

Knight and Matricciani Contribute To Greater Part Of The Score

The speedy sophomores of St. Joseph's College again proved the superiority of the Hawk over the Greyhound. Led by Matt Guokas they sank Loyola under a 35-24 score. Guokas, easily the best player to visit Evergreen this season, ruled the center jump and was the key-man of a fast-working passing attack.

The Philadelphia quint did the remarkable job of holding Tom Carney scoreless and limiting Charley Wayson to a single field goal. Knight and Guy Matricciani did most of the scoring for Loyola, Matricciani contributing some spectacular field goals and running away with high point honors. An impromptu wrestling match was staged by Ed Russell and Jim Smale, who captained the Hawks. Both players were ejected from the game.

The scoring of both teams was limited during the opening of the first half but St. Joseph's gradually pulled ahead and held the lead for the remainder of the game. Two rallies by Loyola in the last half fell short. The game was witnessed by a crowd of 800.

ST. JOSEPH'S

	G	F	T
Smale, f.	3	2-3	8
McMenamin, f.	1	0-1	2
Oakes, f.	1	2-3	4
Guokas, c.	4	1-4	9
D. Kenney, g.	3	1-3	7
J. Kenney, g.	1	3-3	5
Totals	13	9-17	35

LOYOLA

	G	F	T
Carney, f.	0	2-7	2
Wayson, f.	1	1-1	3
Russell, c.	0	0-1	0
Knight, g.	2	3-3	7
Matricciani, g.	6	0-1	12
Totals	9	6-13	24

SAFE DEPOSIT & TRUST CO., OF BALTIMORE

13 SOUTH STREET

tates Managed and Settled

GEORGE C. CUTLER
President

Telephone: UNIVERSITY 3500 GEO. J. STORCK & SON

LUMBER

Sash, Doors, Blinds, Flooring, Wallboard, etc.
2406-18 GREENMOUNT AVENUE

EVEN A BUSY COLLEGE MAN NEEDS TO GO SHOPPING ONCE IN A WHILE

So we'd like you to file for future reference that our whole store is at your service—though we call your attention especially to our Men's Shop on the first floor, and our Young Men's Shop on the third. Perhaps you won't even have to come in; try writing or phoning us!

HUTZLER BROTHERS CO.

Chesterton's Ballad Reviewed By Thompson Poetry Society

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2) some writers claim, but that sometimes he finds it very easy to write, and at other times quite difficult, though at all times he finds it very enjoyable.

Lawrence T. Mullen, '37 introduced the next item on the program, a criticism on Chesterton's religious poetry, read by Daniel J. Loden, '39. The paper contrasted the cliché sentimentality of the majority of religious poems with the strong, virile faith of Mr. Chesterton. To illustrate his statement, Mr. Loden read three poems, "The White Witch," "The Two Maidens," and "The Trinkets" all from "The Queen Of The Seven Seas."

Following this Martin Henneberry, '37, read a commentary on "The Ballad Of The White Horse," one of Chesterton's poems written about the England of King Alfred the Great's time.

The program was concluded with a novel reading of "Lepanto," a poem of the Crusades. The reading, which was announced merely as an experiment, made use of the contrast of five different voices to illustrate the rise of the poem from a slow, rhythmic beginning to the fast moving climax, and the return to the same slow movement in the quiet receding conclusion.

Senior Class Card Party

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 1) Downey, S.J., of Loyola High School, and the mothers and sisters of the committee members.

The bingo table, under the direction of Mr. Henry Zerhusen, '36, made a fine contribution to the fund. Refreshments were served during the playing.

Loyola Mid-Year Examinations To Begin Today, January 21

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2)

Freshmen: French, German I and II

Tuesday, January 28:

Seniors: Apologetics

Juniors: Orals

Sophomores: Inorganic Chemistry

Freshmen: Inorganic Chemistry

Wednesday, January 29:

Seniors: Biology I and II; Sociology

Juniors: Biology, I and II

Sophomores: Biology I

Freshmen: Mathematics, A.B., Ph.B.

Thursday, January 30:

Seniors: History II; Physical Chemistry

Juniors: History II

Sophomores: Mathematics, Greek

Freshmen: Greek

Friday, January 31:

Holiday!

CLASS OF 1929 HONORS FR. MURRAY AT DINNER

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 3)

and Sophomore years at Evergreen.

After leaving Loyola College in 1928 Father Murray taught at St. Joseph's, Philadelphia. A year later he was sent to the Philippine Islands where he remained for six years.

Father Murray, in an informal chat after the meal, entertained his former pupils with stories of his interesting experiences with the Moros and wild peoples on the Philippine Islands. Father Murray said that he was astounded at their faith and that although some of the people had not seen a priest in twenty years they continued to practice their religion and to pray for a priest to visit them.

Mendel Club Lecturer Speaks On The Evolution Of Disease

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 4) vaccines opened huge fields for future investigators.

Mr. Duffey concluded by giving instances of diseases, citing their causes and prevention.

Beginning on February 10, and continuing for three weeks thereafter, an exhibit on Winter Botany will appear at the Pratt Library. It was collected and prepared by Mr. Clyde F. Reed, of the Mendel Club, under the direction of Father Didusch, Professor of the Biology Department.

Those who are interested in becoming members of the Greyhound Staff are requested to see the Editor this week.

A ten-Percent commission will be paid to those securing ads for the paper.

Gangway - Gangway - how they do move

-they just Satisf.